President's Report

Student Success Story

Maureen Chege is one of two recipients of the 2021 T'wina Nobles' Scholarship of $5,000, split between winter and spring quarters. The scholarships are in partnership with the Tacoma Urban League, as CPTC matches their funds. It is given in the spirit of Tacoma Urban League's Young Professionals intended to help prepare a new generation of young leaders to empower their communities and change lives.

Ms. Chege is in the Medical Assistant Program. She grew up in Kenya, Africa. Despite many challenges, she wanted to learn. Ms. Chege had to walk far to school and carry three gallons of water to her high school each day. There were financial constraints that prohibited college right after high school. She worked and saved money to go to college and earned an Associate Degree in Project Management. After relocating to the United States, she fulfilled her dream to take a Medical Assistant Program. Her goal is to help others achieve education without so many struggles.

Introduction of Iesha Valencia, AVP for EDI

President Loveday introduced Iesha Valencia, Associate Vice President for Equity, Diversity & Inclusion, who is already making an impact at the College. Ms. Valencia said this week marks her one-month anniversary at CPTC, and she is happy to be here. She has met several people at CPTC, as they work together in moving the needle on equity for the strategic priorities and bringing it back to why we are here – students such as Ms. Chege. Ms. Valencia looks forward to getting to know the Trustees.

Legislative Visits

Over the past few weeks, President Loveday and others have met with three senators and six representatives to thank them for their support of higher education and to encourage legislators to support the Governor's budget. She thanked Trustee Pritchard for participating in several of the visits. Other attendees included faculty members Diane Follett, Kathryn Smith, Poppy Bushnell, and Michelle Jones and students Michelle Ryder, Jacob Katz, June Nelson, and Alyssa Martin.

Miscellaneous

March 9, 2022, Board of Trustees Meeting

The March 9, 2022, Regular Board meeting will begin at 3 p.m., with no study session, to accommodate an executive session for four tenure candidates. Due to the start time change, the March meeting is now a Special Meeting.

Approval of Resolution 22-02-104, Authorizing Investment of CPTC Monies

Trustees will be asked to vote on this resolution. The resolution clarifies the agreement that CPTC has with the state treasurer to participate in the State's Local Government Investment Pool for any monies not held in the checking account. This is required to be updated annually and will allow the current and future VP of Finance and Administration to sign.

College Reports or Highlights

ASG Report (Tab 2)

Jacob Katz is in the second quarter of the Human Services Program and is the ASG Chair, Events and Activities Committee. A summary of the ASG report is below.

- Highlights of early winter quarter:
 - During Welcome Week, students could spin the wheel and win a prize. Students learned about ASG and upcoming events.
 - Partnerships – ASG; Office of Equity, Diversity & Inclusion; the Diversity Committee; the Ethnic Student Engagement Committee; and the Students of Color Association collaborated and created a month-long program celebrating Black History Month. ASG and the CPTC Food Pantry partnered to create a new program entitled Meal of the Month Club. This month, the meal was Hoppin’ John in celebration of Black History Month.
 - Student Advocacy – Several student leaders met digitally to discuss all the exciting work that ASG is doing.

Instruction Division Report (Tab 5)

Improving Math Outcomes at CPTC

Dr. Chen Mahoney and Mr. Alexander offered the attached report, Improving Math Outcomes at CPTC. Chair Mitchell noted that she would be interested in hearing more about this at another time.

Chair’s Report

- On January 25, Chair Mitchell attended the Washington State Association of College Trustees (ACT) Winter Conference, which was informative and interesting.
- On February 24, the Institute for Black Justice is sponsoring a community event, called “Let the Kings Talk.” It’s a panel discussion about gun violence in the African American community, in particular. It’s also a film screening of Dr. Gilda Sheppard’s Since I Been Down, which chronicles the life of Key Monte Carter at the time he was sentenced at 18 years old to life in prison, without possibility of parole. It will be held at the Blue Mouse Theater; admission and popcorn are free.
- For the very first time, February is officially proclaimed as Black History Month in the city of Puyallup. A community-wide Black History Celebration will be held on February 26, 10 a.m.-4 p.m., at the Puyallup Nazarene Church.

Board Reports and/or Remarks

Trustee Pritchard was happy to invite everyone to the Asia Pacific Cultural Center (APCC) New Year’s Celebration, which will be held at the CPTC McGavick Conference Center, on Saturday, February 19, from 11 a.m.-6 p.m. Admission is free. The featured country this year is China.

Trustee Martinez thanked the College for allowing him to represent CPTC at the Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT) National Legislative Summit in Washington, D.C., February 6-9. Many Trustees were unable to visit with legislators in person, due to staffers and some legislators being exposed to COVID, so visits were via Zoom. It was a good conference; the workshops were very helpful. There was a lot of discussion around Pell Grants, and ACCT would like Congress to pass a Tax Repel Grant. We also made a lot of inroads around community college infrastructure; brick and mortar funding for campuses, to include broadband infrastructure to ensure equitable access to high-speed internet; and further support for digital literacy grants.

The ctcLink System in Brief ctcLink is the implementation of a single, centralized system of online functions to give students, faculty and staff anytime, anywhere access to a modern, efficient way of doing their college business.

It is an Enterprise Resource Management System built on the PeopleSoft Platform

It replaces our 35 year old HP System

It is both a technology project and a people and process project, where colleges are required to examine their core business processes and practices to align with the delivered software solution and system level standardization

Clover Park Technical

Accomplished this period

- ✓ Attended several State Board meetings.
- ✓ Submitted security workbook.
- ✓ Achieved 90% UAT Sprint 1 and 43.3% Sprint 2 activities, for an overall 68.5%
- ✓ Continued work on websites and other student communications
- ✓ Weekly Instructor led training sessions on basic classes has started

Planned for next period

- Attend weekly security meetings and continue progress on workbooks
- Complete UAT Sprint 1 and Sprint 2

Planned, but not completed

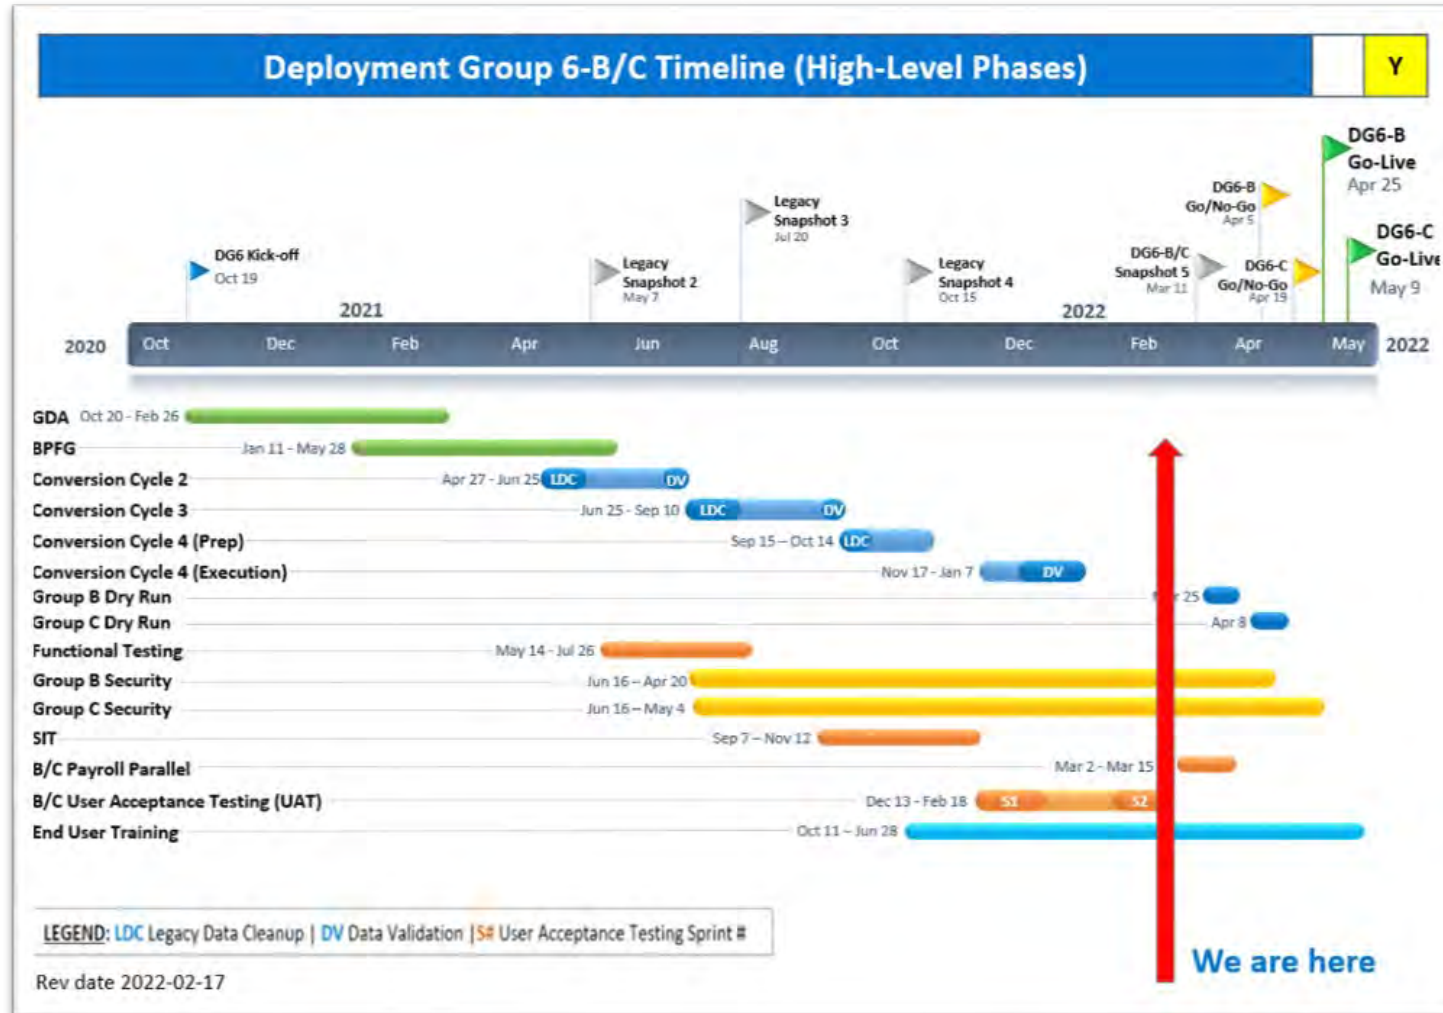

- Planned to achieve a higher percentage of UAT tasks.

If status is yellow or red, describe why*

- CPTC is currently on track with most expected activities; however, here are some project risks for UAT because of our low completion percentage and the time left to complete across all pillars.
- There are also persistent resource related risks in the HCM pillar and process related risks in the SF pillar, particularly in hand offs that occur between CS and SF and FIN, which have not operated seamless during testing and may impact our Post Go Live state.
